Big Crowd Going to Chicago.

From present indications there will be a big crowd from Tulsa at the Chicago convention, and the officers of the American Petroleum League have assigned that they will have a lively bunch from Tulsa. The Apache club is going to put its main efforts toward Tulsa for the next convention, and this town surely ought to get the convention next year, and especially that much as there will be universal opposition to it in the next convention year.

There was a lot of enthusiasm at these conventions and Tulsa showed when it entertained the Confederate veterans that it could take care of a crowd. It is a foregone conclusion that the Apache club will give a good turnout of itself and will bring some of their friends to Tulsa if anything can be done.

The idea of having a special train has been abandoned, no account of many desiring to go by way of Kansas City, while the principal effort has been made to take the business by way of St. Louis. It will be necessary for everyone to look out for himself and make reservations at the earliest possible moment.

The Tulsa World will, of course, be represented, and every effort will be made to keep the people of Tulsa well informed as to everything that is of interest, and with the co-operation of loyal Tulsans it will be possible to show the folks at home, as well as any paper in the south west will carry.

The Bug Under the Chip.

The new gross production tax bill, which has passed the lower house of the legislature, while it does not increase the gross production tax above the 3 per cent it is now, does, however, carry a provision that is intended to make the payment of premiums an unpopular tax because it is doubtless the work of someone who is working under cover to do as much harm as possible. There is an amendment which reads as follows:

"The gross amount thereof produced and the value thereof at the place of production, which value shall be construed to include the posted price together with any premium offered or paid for any such mineral oil or gas so produced."

It would be all right if it to simply state that the price including the production paid were made up of oil and water, but when it includes the word "offered" it leaves a chance for everyone having a desire to make trouble to get in his work.

All men are paying their taxes in full, and especially those who are getting premiums, as they fully realize that the premium more than pays the taxes assessed by the state in the way of a gross production tax. It looks as though someone here

Late Texas News.

The PRENTISS MUDGEE, of Dallas, Texas, March 12, the last newspaper, made some splash in the Eastern market by showing the latest issue and info in trip of stock over 2,000 feet.

The Texarkana Oil company test the Brownfield pool about eight miles southwest of Custer, as reported in three another showing of oil at Marathon. Does not yet appear important.

The Justice and Thomas law firm, of Muskogee, Oklahoma, reported that the Apaches were willing to put in its main efforts toward Tulsa for the next convention, and this town surely ought to get the convention next year, and especially that much as there will be universal opposition to it in the next convention year.

There was a lot of enthusiasm at these conventions and Tulsa showed when it entertained the Confederate veterans that it could take care of a crowd. It is a foregone conclusion that the Apache club will give a good turnout of itself and will bring some of their friends to Tulsa if anything can be done.

The new company No. 1, option near the Aten No. 1 east of Spangler, second section, is nearly full of oil after going three feet into rock. Dykes have left him some space to re-drill, but he has no money to do so. Total depth 3,000 feet. The Aten No. 1, with two strings of tools in hole and much caving from top is still making 20 barrels from 3,000 feet.

The 4000 well of the Duncan Oil & Refining Co., near Pipe Springs, western Comanche country, is now making about 100 barrels of oil of which 60 barrels is sulphur water.

The Ranger pool, the Magnolia Petroleum company No. 3 Rock, is showing 200 barrels on top of the lime. Two miles north of Ranger pool, just over in Stephens County, Shiloh company No. 2, E. Carter, already has 100 barrels of gas and is shooting for a small well.

In same locality Superior Oil company No. 1, Hagan, is a 25 barrel well. In same locality Gladstone Oil and Refining Co. No. 1, Stephenson, is a 25 barrel well.
